

ABOUT THE CFSPH

To enhance national and international preparedness for the accidental or intentional introduction of disease agents that threaten food security or public health.

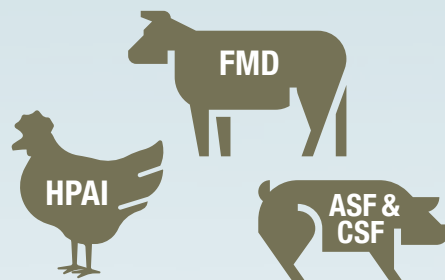

ANIMAL DISEASES

Zoonotic disease resources including: online courses on companion animals and livestock, factsheets, clinic posters, charts, and outreach presentations

English language
animal disease
factsheets

In-depth disease information on

PREVENTION

Extensive biosecurity resources, including courses, media, an online tool, and other online materials such as:

Resources,
including two web-based courses, on C&D
in animal settings

A companion initiative focusing on organic and
alternative
animal health

Two interactive courses for youth on flu
and zoonoses
prevention

PREPAREDNESS & RESPONSE

Secure Food Supply Plans

Five sets of comprehensive commodity-
specific resources

In-depth guidance documents on ASF eradication
and FMD
movement
decisions

Factsheets,
checklists, and resources for
All-Hazards
Rural Disaster
Preparedness

EDUCATION

Online courses available for CE credit, including the Transboundary and Emerging Diseases of Animals online course taken by 100% of US veterinary schools

The Veterinary Biologics Training Program has hosted >3,575 participants from 99 countries since 1996

Day 1
Platform for Veterinary Education

The Day 1 Platform has reached more than 59 veterinary educational establishments in at least 9 different low or middle income countries

WOAH Collaborating Centre for Day-One Veterinary Competencies
and Continuing Education

